ECONOMY, SPEED AND MODERNIZATION SOUGHT

NEW DOUBLES

EFFORTS TO MAKE THREE PLY GOAL

NEW POSTAL BILL OBTAINES ANY PROFITS THIS YEAR

HOPES SOON TO ESTABLISH REG- ULAR AIR ROUTES THROUGH- OUT THE NATION

Washington, March 11.—With the handicap of the new postal bill and increased demands for faster postal service, Postmaster General Harry F. New is doubling his efforts in the new administration to obtain the triple goal of economy, speed and modernization in the mails.

The postal bill increasing the salaries of 200,000 clerks and carriers by an aggregate of $68,000,000 a year starting on January 1st last and raising revenue by about $60,000,000 a year starting April 15th, eliminates the chance of operating the service at a profit this year.

In addition to the $8,000,000 total increase in money paid out, the fact that the new rates go into effect three and a half months after the salary increases, it will slice between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 from the profit side of the department's ledger.

New has been using heroic measures to hold down expenditures and has been refusing requests of postmasters throughout the country for additional help. He will continue this policy except in cases of vital necessity. Under New's administration in 1924 the total postal deficit was $14,463,976 as compared with $24,650,203 during 1923. A deficit, however, will inevitably increase this year under the new postal law.

The department has called in several score of field and disbursing agents and instructed them regarding the new salary features and sent them out again to see that the retroactive features were handled properly in every section.

Being an ardent believer in airplanes as means of commercial transportation, New is hopeful of establishing regular air routes throughout the nation. New believes great progress has been made in this field, enough to justify the considerable expenditures now being prepared. The most ambitious airplane project is the Chicago-New York eight hour overnight service for which landing fields had to be prepared every seventeen miles in crossing the dangerous Allegheny Mountains. This will start in a "few weeks" probably and certainly before July 1st, the department has announced. A new method of establishing air service over "contract routes" handled by commercial aviation firms was made public by a bill passed in the congress which has just adjourned.

Under this arrangement, routes between Chicago and St. Louis and between New York and Boston will be opened shortly. Other cities may be included in the same arrangement on new routes later. This will necessitate putting into effect new rates April 15th. These include a two-cent service on parcel post packages and increasing rates on publications sent under the second class. The only change in first class is the private postal card which will be two cents instead of one.

TAX RETURNS DUE FROM 60,000 YET

THE INTERNAL REVENUE CHIEF WARNS DEADLINE CANNOT BE EXTENDED

St. Paul, March 11.—The end of the income tax filing period is only a few days off and there are still 60,000 persons who have not yet filed tax returns.

This announcement was made by L. M. Willcutts, collector of internal revenue in Minnesota, in warning taxpayers that there could be no extensions of the filing time this year. Mr. Willcutts also called attention

New Nomination to be Made for Attorney General

GREEK BANDITS FIRE ON PARTY OF YANKEE TOURISTS

(By United Press)
Athens, March 11.—Bandits firing on an automobile containing five Anglo-American tourists near Epirus, according to a message received here today, wounded one man. Fifteen shots were fired, the message said, the bandits evidently contemplating seizing the tourists and holding them for ransom. All the men escaped.

WILL REPLACE HILTON, SLATED FOR HIGH COURT

SHIFT IS CONTINGENT ON EX- PECTED RESIGNATION OF JUDGE J. H. QUINN

MAYOR WILL GET CHANCE AT GOVERNORSHIP IN 1928, FORECASTERS SAY

St. Paul, March 11.—That Mayor A. E. Nelson may become attorney general is the latest talk in political circles.

Rumors are that Judge James H. Quinn, associate justice of the state supreme court, contemplates resigning soon because of ill health.

Should he do so, Gov. Christianson would fill the vacancy by appointment, and Atty. Gen. C. L. Hilton is understood to be the one slated for the honor.

Then the governor would have to appoint an attorney general, and Mayor Nelson is picked as the one likely to get this post after he carries out his announced intention of resigning as mayor of St. Paul.

The situation also involves the future political career of the mayor. It is a well known political fact that Gov. Christianson will run to succeed himself next year, unless something unforeseen develops, and that in 1928 he will be a candidate on the republican side for United States senator. Then, should Mayor Nelson hold the office of attorney general, he would get his chance to try for the governorship.

There will be no senatorial election before 1928, when a successor to Senator Henrik Shipstead, Farmer-Laborite, will be named. Sen. Shipstead expects to run again, but it is doubtful if there will be much Farmer-Labor party left by that time for him to run on. Republicans do not want him back, so he will be out of the picture on that side. The situation is such that Gov. Christianson is looked upon at this time as having a cinch on the next senatorship.—St. Paul Daily News.

Unfilled Steel Orders Slow Slight Increase

New York, March 11.—The U. S. Steel corporation unfilled tonnage report for February, issued today, showed an increase of 247,448 tons over that of the previous month.

The unfilled tonnage on Feb. 28 was 5,284,771 tons against 5,037,323 on Jan. 31.

If the tax is erroneously reported in excess of the proper amount the excess must be paid before a claim for refund can be filed.

The end of the income tax period this year is March 16.

TEMPORARY INSANITY CAUSES ACT OF JOSEPH JONES, OF MONTREAL

SUFFERED A NERVOUS BREAK- DOWN AFTER STRENUOUS BUSINESS CAREER

(By United Press)
Chicago, March 11.—Temporary insanity was held today as cause for the suicide of Joseph Jones, 51, treasurer of the Montreal Bell Telephone Company, who plunged from the window of a hotel here yesterday.

Jones suffered a nervous breakdown after strenuous work in increasing the capital stock of his company from $50,000,000 to $75,000,000. He was brought to Chicago and placed under the care of physicians.

Mrs. George C. Pidgeon, sister of Jones, and wife of a noted clergyman of Montreal, and Stephen, brother of Jones, up to the time of his suicide spent much of their time with him. The three were waiting for an elevator when Jones leaped out of the window.

DAVENPORT IN FIGHT TO BLOCK EXTRADITION

CHARGED WITH BANK ROBBERY IN MILWAUKEE, WIS.

VICE PRESIDENT, CASHIER AND CUSTOMER IDENTIFY HIM AS BANDIT

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, March 11.—John B. Davenport, in his attempt to fight the extradition proceedings for his return to Wisconsin to face a charge of bank robbery in Milwaukee, reached the final round today.

Attorneys argued the habeas corpus case before Judge W. W. Bardwell in Hennepin county district court, and the court's decision may come late today.

Davenport is wanted for alleged participation in the $310,000 robbery of the Northwestern National bank, Milwaukee, last December 8. He asserts he was in Minneapolis at the time.

Governor Christianson granted Wisconsin extradition and attorneys for Davenport were to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. A decision in this court is subject to appeal to the supreme court.

Henry A. Brigman, vice president and a cashier of the Milwaukee bank, identified Davenport as one of the five bandits who took part in the robbery. A customer of the bank living at the Wautoma also identified Davenport. Both were positive of the identification.

Davenport had a number of friends who testified he was in Minneapolis at the time of the robbery.

NO SMOKING FOR KING OF GREAT BRITAIN

(By United Press)
London, March 11.—King George, recovering from an attack of bronchitis, is progressing "splendidly," says Milson Reese, throat specialist, after visiting Buckingham palace today.

Doctors have forbidden the king to leave the palace until the weather gets warmer. Present plans call for the king to leave London for a Mediterranean cruise next Tuesday. The doctors have forbidden the king to smoke.

ROOSEVELT DEPOSITION IS TO BE READ

FORMER ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF NAVY TO SO TESTIFY IN TEAPOT DOME CASE

COVERS HIS OWN PART IN NEGOTIATIONS LEADING TO TRANSFER OF AUTHORITY

(By United Press)
Cheyenne, Wyo., March 11.—Former Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt was to testify by deposition at today's session of the Teapot Dome Reserve leasing trial.

His deposition ready for presentation as evidence is understood to cover his own part in the negotiations which led to the transfer of authority over the reserve from the navy to the Interior department. The transfer was made by the late President Harding.

Col. Roosevelt's deposition was taken instead of summoning him personally in order to do away with calling Roosevelt so far away from home. Had he been forced to come here personally, it would have required delaying his trip to Asia at the head of an exploration party.

Roosevelt is said personally to have carried to President Harding the order which Mr. Harding signed, turning over control of the oil reserve to the Interior Department.

The deposition, it is understood, does not mention the instance in which Roosevelt ordered marines to hold a part of the Teapot Reserve against squatters and threatening to gain possession.

SENATOR KENDRICK FIRST WITNESS CALLED

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 11.—John B. Kendrick, U. S. Senator from Wyoming, was the first witness called at today's session of the government suit to break the lease of the Mammoth Oil Company of the Teapot Dome Naval oil reserve.

Kendrick testified he received a telegram from Leslie Miller of Cheyenne on April 7, 1922, asking Kendrick to inquire of former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall if the Department of Interior would consider applications for a lease on a part of the Teapot Dome.

Kendrick said he brought the matter to the attention of the department and on April 14 Miller wired him again asking him to again inquire of the Interior Department about considering an application for a lease on part of the reserve.

Kendrick was questioned by Atlee Pomerene, former U. S. Senator from Ohio. Kendrick said he did not know of the Teapot Dome lease at the time of Miller's telegram and said that a letter from H. Foster Bain, director of the bureau of mines on April 10 stated that no definite contract had been made in connection with naval oil reserve No. 1 and 2 in California and No. 3 in Wyoming.

On April 18th Kendrick said he received a telegram from former Governor B. B. Brooks of Wyoming on behalf of the Rocky Mountain Oil & Gas Producers' Association, urging the Wyoming delegation to take ac-

WILL REPLY TO THREE CHARGES RELATING TO SLEEPING CAR EPISODE

(By United Press)
Chicago, March 11.—A touch of real drama will light up the Stokes trial when Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes takes the stand in her own defense against charges of immorality. Judge William Gemmill ruled that it is legal for her to testify against her own husband, W. E. B. Stokes who is charged with conspiracy to defame his wife's character. Mrs. Stokes will be confined to answering three charges:

That she was alone in her bedroom with Hal Billig while she was attired only in corsets, slippers and stockings, and that she and Billig occupied one berth on a train from Denver to Chicago, and that she and Billig occupied a compartment on a train from Chicago to Denver. Mrs. Stokes has entered vigorous denials to the charges to the prosecution and newspapermen.

HALF MILLION PROPERTY LOSS, MIDWEST STORMS

GREAT DAMAGE IN SECTIONS OF INDIANA AND IL- LINOIS

SCORES OF PERSONS WERE IN- JURED SLIGHTLY—NO DEATHS

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., March 11.—A checkup today of the damage wrought through Indiana and portions of Illinois by terrific wind, rain and hail storms showed a property loss of about half a million dollars.

Scores of persons were slightly injured. The storm attaining tornado proportions in some sections, swept across Edgar county in Illinois and then cut a swath one-eighth of a mile long after it passed across several Indiana counties.

Heavy damage, reports showed, was in the vicinity of Terre Haute, Indiana, where property loss of $200,000 was sustained.

URGES NOMINATIONS FOR AGRICULTURAL AND LABOR POSTS

(By United Press)
Washington, March 11.—Senator Cummins of Iowa called at the White House today to urge the appointment of former Representative Harry Hull of Iowa as assistant secretary of labor, and Lars Haugen, son of Representative Haugen of Iowa, as assistant secretary of agriculture.

E. J. Henning, present assistant labor secretary, is slightly ill, but his office said today there was no intention that he would resign.

(By United Press)
Omaha, Neb., March 11.—Roy Rayfield, Atchison, Kansas, shot and probably fatally wounded his former wife, whose escort, Floyd Walker, he shot in the elbow and then killed himself last night. The shooting occurred in Walker's automobile as it passed through a downtown street with Walker struggling with Rayfield for possession of the revolver. The car finally plunged into a building. Rayfield started to run but finally shot himself in the temple. The Rayfields were divorced two months ago. Mrs. Rayfield was shot under the right eye and has only a slight chance for recovery, physicians said.

RECORDS OF INTERNAL REVE- NUE BUREAU ARE BEING SCANNED

(By United Press)
Washington, March 11.—Behind closed doors, the Couzens senate committee investigating the discrepancies in tax returns of big corporations will start on Monday a new line of inquiry.

A score of cases said to involve corporations of national scope other than those already mentioned, have been prepared by the committee investigators, who have scanned the records of the internal revenue bureau.

Couzens has half a dozen investigators and a squad of stenographers and clerks who have been working on the mass of records. No further testimony will be made available to the public for months.

RURAL COMMUNITY BETTERMENT CONTEST

Fred N. Johnson of Deerwood, a student of the Minnesota School of Agriculture at University Farm, won a cash prize of $10 in the rural community betterment contest, which is held each year.

Ole Eugene of Caledonia won the first prize, Arthur Jacobson of Briceville the second prize, and Dora Newbauer of St. Bonifacius the third prize. Among other winners were Mildred Majerus of Goodhue, William Danks of Lake City, Dorothy Waldo of Henning, and Constance Swenson of Nicollet. The $200 awarded was derived from the Caleb Dorr bequest for the benefit of farm boys and girls attending the School of Agriculture.

The contest is based upon some actual achievement by the student in improving home community conditions. The winner of the first prize organized a farmers' club, and the winner of the second prize re-organized a club which was about to succumb. Miss Newbauer, the third prize winner, promoted recreational activities and club work.

The main purpose of the Minnesota School of Agriculture is to help young people become successful farmers and homemakers. It offers courses of instruction that can be taken during the six months from October to April. Boys may take courses in general farming, animal production, crop production, farm mechanics, horticulture, and nursery training. Girls may take courses in homemaking and can also choose work in home nursing and business training. Academic subjects are included in these courses.

PRES. COOLIDGE TO ACT BEFORE SENATE ADJOURNS

WARREN REFUSED CONFIRMA- TION IN DRAMATIC SESSION OF THE SENATE

RE-SUBMISSION OF SAME WITH PRESENT SENATE LINEUP CONSIDERED HOPELESS

(By United Press)
Washington, March 11.—President Coolidge will submit a new nomination for attorney-general to the senate before it adjourns, republican leaders declared today after a conference with the president at the White House.

Furthermore, in the opinion of Senator Cummins of Iowa, it will be approved by the senate at this extra session. As for the likelihood of the president re-submitting the name of Charles B. Warren who was refused confirmation in a dramatic session of the senate late yesterday, Cummins said, "It would be hopeless with the present lineup in the senate. I do not know of any who might be expected to change their vote of yesterday."

PRESIDENT RESERVES DECISION IN MATTER

Washington, March 11.—The president will reserve his decision on his next step in filling the post of attorney-general until he has conferred with Warren, it was indicated at the White House.

Warren is understood to have been asked to confer with the president at the White House tomorrow.

Senator Cummins ventured his conviction after President Coolidge had summoned him as well as Senators Moses, New Hampshire, Reed, Pennsylvania, Smoot, Utah and Watson, Indiana, for a conference at the White House. He declined to say, however, whether or not the president had indicated he would reconsider Warren's name.

"There will be a new attorney-general before the present session of the senate adjourns," was the only positive light Cummins would throw on the situation. The senators at the White House conference, it was learned, informed the president that Warren's nomination if resubmitted, could not be confirmed, and they left with the impression that Mr. Cummins is convinced himself they must seek another man. There was no hint either at the White House or the senate as to who would be suggested.

The storm attaining tornado proportions in some sections, swept across Edgar county in Illinois and then cut a swath one-eighth of a mile long after it passed across several Indiana counties.

Heavy damage, reports showed, was in the vicinity of Terre Haute, Indiana, where property loss of $200,000 was sustained.

URGES NOMINATIONS FOR AGRICULTURAL AND LABOR POSTS

(By United Press) Washington, March 11.—Senator Cummins of Iowa called at the White House today to urge the appointment of former Representative Harry Hull of Iowa as assistant secretary of labor, and Lars Haugen, son of Representative Haugen of Iowa, as assistant secretary of agriculture.

E. J. Henning, present assistant labor secretary, is slightly ill, but his office said today there was no intention that he would resign.

tion bringing consummation of the Teapot Dome lease.

In connection with the telegram and letters, Kendrick said he introduced a resolution asking the interior and navy departments for more information as to leasing of naval oil reserves and whether any opportunity was given for public bidding on the contracts.

COURT RECESSED AT NOON HOUR

Cheyenne, Wyo., March 11.—Court recessed at noon followed reading of deposition of Col. James G. Garden and U. S. Senator Herrald of Oklahoma.

SHOOTS FORMER WIFE AND THEN KILLS HIMSELF

(By United Press) Omaha, Neb., March 11.—Roy Rayfield, Atchison, Kansas, shot and probably fatally wounded his former wife, whose escort, Floyd Walker, he shot in the elbow and then killed himself last night. The shooting occurred in Walker's automobile as it passed through a downtown street with Walker struggling with Rayfield for possession of the revolver. The car finally plunged into a building. Rayfield started to run but finally shot himself in the temple. The Rayfields were divorced two months ago. Mrs. Rayfield was shot under the right eye and has only a slight chance for recovery, physicians said.

COUZENS AND COMMITTEE ON LINE OF INQUIRY

SCORE OF CORPORATIONS TO HAVE TAX MATTERS IN- VESTIGATED

RECORDS OF INTERNAL REVENUE BUREAU ARE BEING SCANNED

(By United Press) Washington, March 11.—Behind closed doors, the Couzens senate committee investigating the discrepancies in tax returns of big corporations will start on Monday a new line of inquiry.

A score of cases said to involve corporations of national scope other than those already mentioned, have been prepared by the committee investigators who have scanned the records of the internal revenue bureau.

Couzens has half a dozen investigators and a squad of stenographers and clerks who have been working on the mass of records. No further testimony will be made available to the public for months.

RURAL COMMUNITY BETTERMENT CONTEST

Fred N. Johnson of Deerwood, a student of the Minnesota School of Agriculture at University Farm, won a cash prize of $10 in the rural community betterment contest, which is held each year.

Ole Eugene of Caledonia won the first prize, Arthur Jacobson of Briceville the second prize, and Dora Newbauer of St. Bonifacius the third prize. Among other winners were Mildred Majerus of Goodhue, William Dankers of Lake City, Dorothy Waldo of Hennepin, and Constance Swenson of Nicollet. The $200 awarded was derived from the Caleb Dorr bequest for the benefit of farm boys and girls attending the School of Agriculture.

The contest is based upon some actual achievement by the student in improving home community conditions. The winner of the first prize organized a farmers' club, and the winner of the second prize reorganized a club which was about to succumb. Miss Newbauer, the third prize winner, promoted recreational activities and club work.

The main purpose of the Minnesota School of Agriculture is to help young people become successful farmers and homemakers. It offers courses of instruction that can be taken during the six months from October to April. Boys may take courses in general farming, animal production, crop production, farm mechanics, horticulture, and nursery training. Girls may take courses in homemaking and can also choose work in home nursing and business training. Academic subjects are included in these courses.

McAdoo says he prefers California to the White House as a place in which to live, which explains why he pouted when Davis was given the preference.

PRES. COOLIDGE TO ACT BEFORE SENATE ADJOURNS

RE-SUBMISSION OF SAME WITH PRESENT SENATE LINEUP CONSIDERED HOPELESS

(By United Press) Washington, March 11.—President Coolidge will submit a new nomination for attorney-general to the senate before it adjourns, republican leaders declared today after a conference with the president at the White House.

Furthermore, in the opinion of Senator Cummins of Iowa, it will be approved by the senate at this extra session. As for the likelihood of the president re-submitting the name of Charles B. Warren who was refused confirmation in a dramatic session of the senate late yesterday, Cummins said, "It would be hopeless with the present lineup in the senate. I do not know of any who might be expected to change their vote of yesterday."

PRESIDENT RESERVES DECISION IN MATTER

Washington, March 11.—The president will reserve his decision on his next step in filling the post of attorney-general until he has conferred with Warren, it was indicated at the White House.

Warren is understood to have been asked to confer with the president at the White House tomorrow.

Senator Cummins ventured his conviction after President Coolidge had summoned him as well as Senators Moses, New Hampshire, Reed, Pennsylvania, Smoot, Utah and Watson, Indiana, for a conference at the White House. He declined to say, however, whether or not the president had indicated he would reconsider Warren's name.

"There will be a new attorney-general before the present session of the senate adjourns," was the only positive light Cummins would throw on the situation. The senators at the White House conference, it was learned, informed the president that Warren's nomination if resubmitted, could not be confirmed, and they left with the impression that Mr. Cummins is convinced himself they must seek another man. There was no hint either at the White House or the senate as to who would be suggested.

WARREN VISITS PRES. COOLIDGE

Detroit, Mich., March 11.—Chas. B. Warren, who was rejected by the senate yesterday as attorney general, left today for a conference with President Coolidge at Washington. Warren said his presence was requested by the president.

RHINELANDERS IN "SOCIAL REGISTER"

MILLCENT ROGERS, MRS. STILL- MAN AND MRS. STOKES OMITTED

(By United Press) New York, March 11.—The name of Leonard Kipp Rhinelander and his wife appear in the latest supplement of the "Social Register," but the names of Millicent Rogers, Mrs. James A. Stillman and Helen Elwood Stokes are missing.

The Rhinelanders were married secretly and now Rhinelander is demanding annulment of the marriage charging his wife is declared to be a mulatto in the birth records and she never told him.

It has been the custom to drop from the register the names of persons who are dragged into print in sensational scandal.

CHILD GUIDANCE CLINIC PLANNED

To be Held in Brainerd on April 13, 14 and 15, Says Welfare Board

ON THE RANGE APRIL 16 AND 17
Clinic is Educational Function of the University of Minnesota

A child guidance clinic is to be held in Brainerd on April 13th, 14th and 15th, and in Crosby and Ironton on April 16th and 17th, fostered by the child welfare board of the county.

This clinic is one of the educational and service functions of the University of Minnesota, extending beyond the confines of the campus and reaching particularly rural portions of the state.

The purpose is to examine and give advice regarding children who have difficulties of behavior, so-called types of nervousness, undesirable habits, beginnings of delinquency, queerness, or other distorted mental attitudes.

The examination is very detailed, including a social examination of the environment, heredity, development, habits, conduct and personality; a physiological examination by which the mental capabilities of the child are measured; a physical examination to bring out his own interests, attitudes, likes and dislikes, fears and the relation of these to his difficulties.

Because of this detailed examination and the limited number of children who can be examined, it is important that the co-operation of the home be assured in carrying out the recommendations of the clinic, and this must be considered in selecting the cases. The reason why it is so important to deal with these children's problems is that the mental upsets, nervousness and crimes of adults, as well as their less serious distortions and inefficiencies, are corrected with these disorders of child behavior.

Questions concerning the clinic or application for examinations in the clinic should be made to the local child welfare board, the city and school nurse of Brainerd or Crosby, Ironton, or to the Red Cross nurse of the county.

Because of the importance of the work, Brainerd may be selected as one of the five permanent stations of this traveling clinic service.

SECOND WEEK OF MISSION

Rev. Valiant Spoke Last Night on "The Three Handwritings"

In beginning the second week of the Christian Life Mission with the Baptist churches of Brainerd, Rev. Valiant spoke last night on "The Three Handwritings," named the Writing on the Stone, or God is Light, the Writing on the Wall, or God is Judge, and the Writing on the Cross, or God is Love.

"Some scientists," said Rev. Valiant, "tell us that they can tell something of our character and disposition by our handwriting. Whether that is true or not, I do not know, but I do know that these three handwritings referred to in the Bible tell us something of the character of God. There are a lot of professing Christians hiding behind the words of Jesus 'I came not to destroy the law, but to fulfill the law,' when a careful study of the teachings of Jesus places us under a greater obligation than does the law.

"God is not any different today from what he was in the days of the king of old, and if men fail to glorify him, God, in their lives today, they will have to face the handwriting on the wall just the same as he did. Sodom and Calvary are outstanding illustrations of the judgment of Almighty God. The very nature of God demands that he shall deal with sin and ultimately dispose of it. As we remember that the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ His Son, we must also remember that the wages of sin is death. One cannot understand how men can think of God's goodness to them and then live such devilish lives.

"The handwriting on the cross," the preacher said, "is God's demonstration of love for the whole world. It is his love letter, written with the blood of His only begotten Son, to a lost race. If this love appeal will not bring men and women to the point of enlistment in Christian life and service, nothing else will."

AMATEUR NIGHT AT NEW PARK

Thursday to Witness Appearance of Many Budding Geniuses

The New Park will present a number of amateur acts on Thursday night in conjunction with the special picture "Richard, the Lion Hearted," a continuation of "Robin Hood," with Wallace Beery as King Richard, the role he created in "Robin Hood." This big bill will be presented at regular prices.

A number of acts have been arranged for and most of them are making their first stage appearance at this time. The management of the New Park wishing to encourage amateur talent hopes that anyone wishing to appear on these amateur nights would make arrangements as soon as possible.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Organization of First Congregational Church Met at Home of Mrs. Walter Folsom

The missionary society of the First Congregational church was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Folsom.

Mrs. Conrad, as leader, introduced the subject of "A Strong Nation," from Chapter V of Ming-Kwong, by reading "A little one shall become a thousand and a small one a strong nation," the application being made to China's progress from 1807, when Robert Morrison first went to China, to 1912, the time noted when China's missionaries numbered 5,500.

The study consisted of a series of letters written by Mrs. Gladden of Ming-Kwong to her friend in America. These letters were read and discussed by members present, stress being put upon the effect of the revolution on the life of China and of its many transformations, the most amazing being the government's recognition of the need of an educated womanhood.

"Boy-ex-emperor is content," from the Brooklyn Eagle, given by Mrs. Irma C. Hartley, which showed the ex-emperor, Hsuan Tung, the Manchurian, who calls himself Henry Pu Yi, not sorry that General Feng's coup d'etat in Peking forced him to get rid of the summer palace, where he had been virtually cooped up. The former boy emperor is now 18 years old and when he is able to set out and see the world says, "I would like to go to Japan first and then to America, where I hope to go to school and I think I would prefer Columbia."

Mrs. E. P. Slipp, from the Chicago Daily News sent by Mrs. C. H. Long, showed photographs of Mr. I. Chinese Baltimore college student, who has the world's shortest name, also photographs of Washington's official wives, who entertained foreign mission aids at luncheon during the foreign mission convention of the United States and Canada.

Attention was called to this gathering of missionary leaders and representatives from all parts of the world, 5,000 strong, in America's national capital, at which President Coolidge, in the opening address, pleaded for a return to the spirit and methods of Christ and Peter and Paul.

Clippings from the Cleveland paper sent by Miss Sadie Robinson of that city, contained the article, "China swats flies" and which stated that General Feng started a crusade against flies in his camp at Nanuan. Each soldier was requested to bring in a daily "bag" of flies, for which he was promised a certain number of coppers.

The program closed with a reading, "Precious flower and the flies," given by Mrs. C. W. Hoffman, who in a very interesting manner, told of the benefits in sanitation, received at the mission school, where the Chinese scholars were taught of the harmful effects of the ubiquitous flies, who make cholera and fever.

Sewing for local hospital needs was engaged in under the direction of Mrs. Elder. During the social hour, very appetizing refreshments were served by the hostess.

SUFFERS BY COMPARISONS

Minnesota Failing to Keep Pace With Rivals in Permanent Road Work

That Minnesota is rather "living on its reputation" for good roads, more than continuing a good roads leader, is indicated by current comparisons of permanent highway building in various states.

Last year California built 178 miles of highway paving, Delaware 63 miles, Illinois 1,113 miles, Indiana 384 miles, Michigan 576 miles, North Carolina 265 miles, Ohio 243 miles, Pennsylvania 624 miles, and Wisconsin 269 miles.

Minnesota built 72 miles last year including 20 miles of short pieces on trunk highways in cities and villages.

BOY SCOUT WORK ON RANGE

(Deerwood Enterprise)

At a meeting, Monday, of interested men in the Boy Scout work on the Cuyuna range held at the Spalding hotel, Crosby, it was decided to organize a special sub-council committee to look after the affairs of this district. This will mean that matters pertaining to activities in scouting on the range will be looked after almost entirely by men of the range.

A district constitution was adopted and officers elected: C. F. Heck, president; A. H. Proctor, vice president; R. H. Keyes, treasurer; John Lindahl, commissioner. These men with the assistance of the chairman of the standing committee will be responsible for the promotion of various activities.

A discussion was held with regard to securing a location for the summer camp, which will be under the direction of C. H. Scheuer, Bob Mayhew and B. Magoffin.

All awarding of merit badges will be subject to regulation of the Court of Honor composed of Dr. P. Halenbeck, T. F. Cole and Arthur Nelson. Finance affairs will be looked after by O. M. Wauvick, D. B. McAlpine and W. J. Van Evera.

A meeting of the camp committee was held following this meeting relative to the selection of a summer camp. Several sites will be inspected in the near future and a report made at the next meeting.

DISAPPOINTMENTS LOOMING

Many Counties Must Wait for Road Work If Favorable Legislation Fails

Less than half the improvements of the average year under the state highway program to date will be possible this year and next under the most favorable legislation and without special provisions for needed working capital the state highway work will be suspended, Commissioner C. M. Babcock has warned.

That suggests the probability that many counties will be disappointed especially those assuming their pet road project is of first importance and will be built, willy nilly, regardless of what the legislature may do. The only saving will be that of expenses of delegation, planning to go to St. Paul to urge immediate work on different routes—they will be able to stay at home and waste neither time nor money on useless effort.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Donations Received Have Been Forwarded to New York City

Seven dollars in donations received by the E. H. Jones dry goods store for Near East relief, was forwarded Saturday to New York city, where it will be cabled to Macedonia, so that more of the many hungry refugee children will be able to have at least one meal a day.

Those who have not had the privilege of giving toward this deserving cause, can make their contributions at the Jones store, to Mrs. J. P. Early at the court house, or to Miss Lillian Irwin at the Brainerd Hardware.

From the children of the Near East comes this message concerning the American flag: "It is the only flag we have, and the only one that means a homeland to us. America has been our father and mother and we want the Stars and Stripes always with us as a constant reminder of what we owe to your country."

Is of Interest to Brainerd Folks

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Brainerd resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Peter Paulson, 402 Oak St. W., says: "I slipped and wrenched my back. For several days I was all in and could hardly take care of my work. My kidneys acted too frequently and I had no ambition to do anything. I read about Doan's Pills and was led to try them. They soon relieved me."

A FEW YEARS LATER Mr. Paulson added: "Doan's Pills cured me of kidney trouble. I have had no return of the complaint since."

A child guidance clinic is to be held in Brainerd on April 13th, 14th and 15th, and in Crosby and Ironton on April 16th and 17th, fostered by the child welfare board of the county.

This clinic is one of the educational and service functions of the University of Minnesota, extending beyond the confines of the campus and reaching particularly rural portions of the state.

The purpose is to examine and give advice regarding children who have difficulties of behavior, so-called types of nervousness, undesirable habits, beginnings of delinquency, queerness, or other distorted mental attitudes.

The examination is very detailed, including a social examination of the environment, heredity, development, habits, conduct and personality; a psychological examination by which the mental capabilities of the child are measured; a physical examination to bring out his own interests, attitudes, likes and dislikes, fears and the relation of these to his difficulties.

Because of this detailed examination and the limited number of children who can be examined, it is important that the co-operation of the home be assured in carrying out the recommendations of the clinic, and this must be considered in selecting the cases. The reason why it is so important to deal with these children's problems is that the mental upsets, nervousness and crimes of adults, as well as their less serious distortions and inefficiencies, are connected with these disorders of child behavior.

Questions concerning the clinic or application for examinations in the clinic should be made to the local child welfare board, the city and school nurse of Brainerd or Crosby-Ironton, or to the Red Cross nurse of the county.

Because of the importance of the work, Brainerd may be selected as one of the five permanent stations of this traveling clinic service.

SECOND WEEK OF MISSION

Rev. Valiant Spoke Last Night on "The Three Hand-writings"

In beginning the second week of the Christian Life Mission with the Baptist churches of Brainerd, Rev. Valiant spoke last night on "The Three Handwritings," named the Writing on the Stone, or God is Light, the Writing on the Wall, or God is Judge, and the Writing on the Cross, or God is Love.

"Some scientists," said Rev. Valiant, "tell us that they can tell something of our character and disposition by our handwriting. Whether that is true or not, I do not know, but I do know that these three handwritings referred to in the Bible tell us something of the character of God. There are a lot of professing Christians hiding behind the words of Jesus 'I came not to destroy the law, but to fulfill the law,' when a careful study of the teachings of Jesus places us under a greater obligation than does the law.

"God is not any different today from what he was in the days of the king of old, and if men fail to glorify him, God, in their lives today, they will have to face the handwriting on the wall just the same as he did. Sodom and Calvary are outstanding illustrations of the judgment of Almighty God. The very nature of God demands that he shall deal with sin and ultimately dispose of it. As we remember that the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ His Son, we must also remember that the wages of sin is death. One cannot understand how men can think of God's goodness to them and then live such devil's lives.

"The handwriting on the cross," the preacher said, "is God's demonstration of love for the whole world. It is his love letter, written with the blood of His only begotten Son, to a lost race. If this love appeal will not bring men and women to the point of enlistment in Christian life and service, nothing else will."

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Organization of First Congregational Church Met at Home of Mrs. Walter Folsom

The missionary society of the First Congregational church was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Walter Folsom.

Mrs. Conrad, as leader, introduced the subject of "A Strong Nation," from Chapter V of Ming-Kwong, by reading "A Little one shall become a thousand and a small one a strong nation," the application being made to China's progress from 1807, when Robert Morrison first went to China, to 1912, the time noted when China's missionaries numbered 5,500.

The study consisted of a series of letters written by Mrs. Gladden of Ming-Kwong to her friend in America. These letters were read and discussed by members present, stress being put upon the effect of the revolution on the life of China and of its many transformations, the most amazing being the government's recognition of the need of an educated womanhood.

"Boy ex-emperor is content," from the Brooklyn Eagle, given by Mrs. Irma C. Hartley, which showed the ex-emperor, Hsuang Tung, the Manchurian relic, who calls himself Henry Pu Yi, not sorry that General Feng's coup d'etat in Peking forced him to get rid of the summer palace, where he had been virtually caged up. The former boy emperor is now 18 years old and when he is able to set out and see the world says, "I would like to go to Japan first and then to America, where I hope to go to school and I think I would prefer Columbia."

Mrs. E. P. Slipp, from the Chicago Daily News sent by Mrs. C. H. Long, showed photographs of Mr. I. Chinese Baltimore college student, who has the world's shortest name, also photographs of Washington's official wives, who entertained foreign mission aids at luncheon during the foreign mission convention of the United States and Canada.

Attention was called to this gathering of missionary leaders and representatives from all parts of the world, 5,000 strong, in America's national capital, at which President Coolidge, in the opening address, pleaded for a return to the spirit and methods of Christ and Peter and Paul.

Clippings from the Cleveland paper sent by Miss Sadie Robinson of that city, contained the article, "China swats flies" and which stated that General Feng started a crusade against flies in his camp at Nanchang. Each soldier was requested to bring in a daily "bag" of flies, for which he was promised a certain number of coppers.

The program closed with a reading, "Precious flower and the flies," given by Mrs. C. W. Hoffman, who in a very interesting manner, told of the benefits in sanitation, received at the mission school, where the Chinese scholars were taught of the harmful effects of the ubiquitous flies, who make cholera and fever.

Sewing for local hospital needs was engaged in under the direction of Mrs. Elder. During the social hour, very appetizing refreshments were served by the hostess.

SUFFERS BY COMPARISONS

Minnesota Failing to Keep Pace With Rivals in Permanent Road Work

That Minnesota is rather "living on its reputation" for good roads, more than continuing a good roads leader, is indicated by current comparisons of permanent highway building in various states.

Last year California built 178 miles of highway paving, Delaware 63 miles, Illinois 1,113 miles, Indiana 384 miles, Michigan 576 miles, North Carolina 265 miles, Ohio 242 miles, Pennsylvania 624 miles, and Wisconsin 269 miles.

Minnesota built 72 miles last year including 20 miles of short pieces on trunk highways in cities and villages.

BOY SCOUT WORK ON RANGE

(Deerwood Enterprise)

At a meeting, Monday, of interested men in the Boy Scout work on the Cuyuna range held at the Spalding hotel, Crosby, it was decided to organize a special sub-council committee to look after the affairs of this district. This will mean that matters pertaining to activities in scouting on the range will be looked after almost entirely by men of the range.

A district constitution was adopted and officers elected: C. F. Heck, president; A. H. Proctor, vice president; R. H. Keyes, treasurer; John Lindahl, commissioner. These men with the assistance of the chairman of the standing committee will be responsible for the promotion of various activities.

A discussion was held with regard to securing a location for the summer camp, which will be under the direction of C. H. Scheuer, Bob Mayhew and B. Magdlin.

All awarding of merit badges will be subject to regulation of the Court of Honor composed of Dr. P. Halenbeck, T. F. Cole and Arthur Nelson. Finance affairs will be looked after by O. M. Wanvig, D. B. McAlpine and W. J. Van Evera.

A meeting of the camp committee was held following this meeting relative to the selection of a summer camp. Several sites will be inspected in the near future and a report made at the next meeting.

DISAPPOINTMENTS LOOMING

Many Counties Must Wait for Road Work if Favorable Legislation Fails

Less than half the improvements of the average year under the state highway program to date will be possible this year and next under the most favorable legislation and without special provisions for needed working capital the state highway work will be suspended, Commissioner C. M. Babcock has warned.

That suggests the probability that many counties will be disappointed especially those assuming their pet road project is of first importance and will be built, wily nitty, regardless of what the legislature may do.

The only saving will be that of expenses of delegation planning to go to St. Paul to urge immediate work on different routes—they will be able to stay at home and waste neither time nor money on useless effort.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

Donations Received Have Been Forwarded to New York City

Seven dollars in donations received by the E. H. Jones dry goods store for Near East relief, was forwarded Saturday to New York city, where it will be cabled to Macedonia, so that more of the many hungry refugee children will be able to have at least one meal a day.

From the children of the Near East comes this message concerning the American flag: "It is the only flag we have, and the only one that means a homeland to us. America has been our father and mother and we want the Stars and Stripes always with us as a constant reminder of what we owe to your country."

Is of Interest to Brainerd Folks

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Brainerd resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Peter Paulson, 402 Oak St. W., says: "I slipped and wrenched my back. For several days I was all in and could hardly take care of my work. My kidneys acted too frequently and I had no ambition to do anything. I read about Doan's Pills and was led to try them. They soon relieved me."

A FEW YEARS LATER Mr. Paulson added: "Doan's Pills cured me of kidney trouble. I have had no return of the complaint since."

BUSH PROMISES BROWNS LUCK

IN an Associated Press article sent out from St. Louis and featured in all sports pages of newspapers of the United States, Joe Bush is headlined and his argument made much of. It's simply this, that Joe Bush has never been with a loser.

Transferred from Miller Huggins' Yankee team to the St. Louis Browns, Joe has every reason to believe that he will bring luck to Ball's aggregation. His remark that it "just means shifting from one pennant winner to another," shows the faith he has in his hunch. He has never been with an American league club that was not a pennant winner.

Bush, in his first year in organized baseball, traveled from Brainerd's sandlot team to Missoula, played victoriously there, and then under Connie Mack's gonfalon, pitched three games for the Philadelphia Athletics, and these games, mind you, were no exhibition, barn-storming games, but regular big league affairs. In his first year with Connie Mack he helped pitch the club into a pennant and a world's championship. That was in 1913 and he helped the Athletics repeat to a pennant in 1914. Then the Athletics dropped out of the championship class and later Bush was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

His very first year, 1918, as a member of the Boston club saw it take the championship. Later it dropped out of the pennant winning class and Bush went to the New York Yankees. That was in 1922 and Bush, having one of the best years of his long career, helped pitch the Yankees to a pennant. They repeated in 1923 and dropped out of the lead in 1924. Now comes the shift of Bush from the Yanks to the Browns, and St. Louis fans are wondering whether history will repeat in his fourth shift.

Brainerd fans are not wondering, they are so sure Bush will land the Browns on top that they are saving their coin for the world series at St. Louis. We say again that Bush is a hot weather pitcher and will go like a house on fire in St. Louis.

THE DEMING HEADLIGHT

R. R. WISE sent us a copy of the Deming Headlight of Deming, N. M., and we read his exposition of the 10,000 lakes and all about his visit in New Mexico. Then our eyes wandered over the page and found a column headed "Noticias De La Semana," which stumped us.

The only English we could grab was in these two paragraphs which we quote:

"Proximamente se cerraran las vistas de la Sala Aquina hasta despues de la semana mayor. El Domingo proximo se daran las ultimas dos partes del episodio 'Paradise Island.'"

"Mientras que el Sr. Marcelino Delgrade se encontraba en el social dado en el Armory el Domingo en la noche mos 'amantes de lo ajeno' tomaron los coils de su carro 'Ford' que estaba parado en la calle enfrente del Armory."

TRADE ASSOCIATION ETHICS

HERBERT HOOVER says that with trade associations used as the machinery for the cultivation and spread of high standards and the elimination of abuses, he is convinced that we shall have entered the great era of self-governing industry and business which has been the dream of many thinkers.

A self-governing industry can be made to render needless a vast area of governmental interference and regulation which has grown up out of righteous complaint against the abuses during the birth pangs of an industrial world.

IN Chicago society trading of wives at a New Year's dinner party makes no great uproar and the principals pursue the even tenor of their ways by securing the necessary divorces and re-marrying. Out in Bloomfield, Missouri, two young farmers traded wives and both couples are now serving five months in jail. The latter couples had announced their intention of obtaining divorce and re-marrying in accordance with their present affections.

THE senate is not the only great legislative body to be "called down" by a speaker or to harbor parliamentary law ructions. In commons in England, David Kirkwood, labor member, made himself so objectionable by continually interrupting Austen Chamberlain, that the house ousted him.

P. B. ANDERSON, one of our substantial farmers, for almost a quarter of a century a resident of Crow Wing township, has removed to Brainerd and now lives on the south side, too late, however, says P. B., to run for mayor this spring.

THE editor of the Little Falls Daily Transcript has undoubtedly just made out his income tax statement, verified by the fact that he ran three consecutive editorials in his paper on income taxes.

NEWS dispatches the other day carried the item that some high personage had forgotten to pay $10,000,000 back taxes. Nobody in Brainerd would ever think of being guilty of such an imputation.

NEWSPAPERS and the radio have rendered obsolete the government printing of daily weather forecast cards. Budget experts urged their discontinuance.

WHEN four senators made a run on an "independence" ticket, we fail to see how they can still retain their allegiance to a regular party organization.

It seems very appropriate to start an air service from Chicago, often referred to as the "Windy City."

FOREST WEEK

PROCLAIMED BY PRESIDENT

PERIOD OF OBSERVANCE TO BE
FROM APRIL 27 TO
MAY 3

PRESERVATION OF AMERICAN FORESTS A NECESSARY POLICY

(By United Press)

Washington, March 11.—President Coolidge today proclaimed the week of April 27 to May 3 to be American Forest Week and urged the country to observe the occasion by taking a renewed interest in forest rehabilitation.

Preservation of the nation's forests is a policy which President Coolidge regards as one of the most important duties his administration can uphold. In his proclamation today he termed forest protection a "sacred responsibility to unborn generations."

Mr. Coolidge does not regard the Forest Week he proclaimed as a mere gesture to be observed principally by school children singing Arbor Day songs. He feels a stimulation of the people's interest in maintaining the rapidly dwindling forests is one of the most serious needs of the time.

"We have passed the pioneer stage and are no longer excusable for continuing this unwise dissipation of a great resource," he declared in his proclamation. "To the nation it means the lack of an elemental necessity and the waste or keeping idle or only partly productive nearly one-fourth of our soil."

"Let us apply to this creative task the boundless energy and skill we have so long spent in harvesting the free gifts of nature. The forests of the future must be started today."

The proclamation follows: "In proclaiming American Forest Week, I desire to bring to the attention of all our people the danger that comes from the neglect of our forests."

The Forests Stripped

"For several years the nation has observed Forest Protection Week. It is fitting that this observance be enlarged. We have too freely spent the rich and magnificent gift that nature bestowed on us. In our eagerness to use that gift we have stripped our forests; we have permitted fires to lay waste and devour them; we have all too often destroyed the young growth and the seed from which new forests might spring. And though we already feel the first grip of timber shortage, we have barely begun to save and restore."

"We have passed the pioneer stage and are no longer excusable for continuing this unwise dissipation of a great resource. To the nation it means the lack of an elemental necessity and the waste or keeping idle or only partly productive nearly one-fourth of our soil. To our forest-using industries it means unstable investments, the depletion of forest capital, the disbanding of established enterprises, and the decline of one of our most important industrial groups."

"Our forests ought to be put to work and kept at work. I do not minimize the obstacles that have to be met, nor the difficulty of changing old ideas and practices. We must all put our hands to this common task. It is not enough that the Federal State and local governments take the lead. There must be a change in our national attitude. Our industries, our landowners, our farmers, all our citizens must learn to treat our forests as crops, to be used but also to be renewed. We must learn to tend our woodlands, as carefully as we tend our farms."

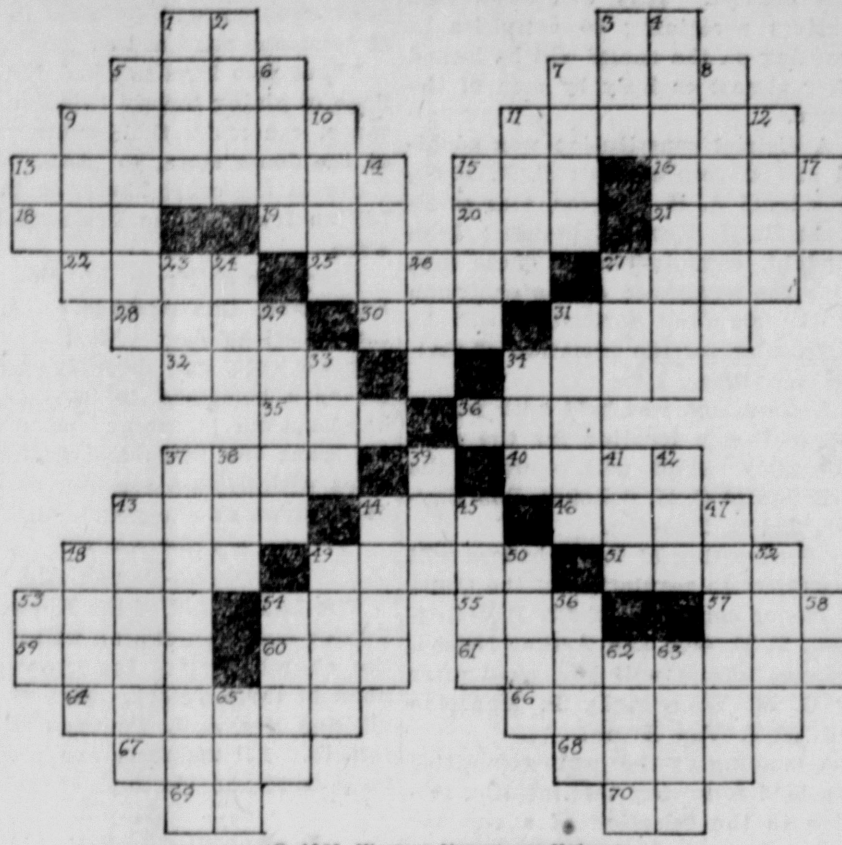

"Let us apply to this creative task the boundless energy and skill we have so long spent in harvesting the free gifts of nature. The forests of the future must be started today. Our children are dependent on our course. We are bound by a solemn obligation from which no evasion and no subterfuge will relieve us. Unless we fulfill our sacred responsibility to unborn generations, unless we use with gratitude and with restraint the generous and kindly gifts of Divine Providence, we shall prove ourselves unworthy guardians of a heritage we hold in trust."

"Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, do recommend to the governors of the various states to designate and set apart the week of April 27-May 3 inclusive, 1925, as American Forest Week, and, wherever practicable and not in conflict with state law or accepted customs, to celebrate Arbor Day within that week. And I urge public officials, public and business associations, industrial leaders, forest owners, editors, educators, and all

IN an Associated Press article sent out from St. Louis and featured in all sports pages of newspapers of the United States, Joe Bush is headlined and his argument made much of. It's simply this, that Joe Bush has never been with a loser.

Transferred from Miller Huggins' Yankee team to the St. Louis Browns, Joe has every reason to believe that he will bring luck to Ball's aggregation. His remark that it "just means shifting from one pennant winner to another," shows the faith he has in his hunch. He has never been with an American league club that was not a pennant winner.

Bush, in his first year in organized baseball, traveled from Brainerd's sandlot team to Missoula, played victoriously there, and then under Connie Mack's gonfalon, pitched three games for the Philadelphia Athletics, and these games, mind you, were no exhibition, barn-storming games, but regular big league affairs. In his first year with Connie Mack he helped pitch the club into a pennant and a world's championship. That was in 1913 and he helped the Athletics repeat to a pennant in 1914. Then the Athletics dropped out of the championship class and later Bush was traded to the Boston Red Sox.

His very first year, 1918, as a member of the Boston club saw it take the championship. Later it dropped out of the pennant winning class and Bush went to the New York Yankees. That was in 1922 and Bush, having one of the best years of his long career, helped pitch the Yankees to a pennant. They repeated in 1923 and dropped out of the lead in 1924. Now comes the shift of Bush from the Yanks to the Browns, and St. Louis fans are wondering whether history will repeat in his fourth shift.

Brainerd fans are not wondering, they are so sure Bush will land the Browns on top that they are saving their coin for the world series at St. Louis. We say again that Bush is a hot weather pitcher and will go like a house on fire in St. Louis.

THE DEMING HEADLIGHT

R. R. WISE sent us a copy of the Deming Headlight of Deming, N. M., and we read his exposition of the 10,000 lakes and all about his visit in New Mexico. Then our eyes wandered over the page and found a column headed "Noticias De La Semana," which stumped us.

The only English we could grab was in these two paragraphs which we quote:

"Proximamente se cerraran las vistas de la Sala Aquina hasta despues de la semana mayor. El Domingo proximo se daran las ultimas dos partes del episodio 'Paradise Island'."

"Mientras que el Sr. Marcelino Delgrade se encontraba en el social dado en el Armory el Domingo en la noche mos 'amantes de lo ajeno' tomaron los coils de su carro 'Ford' que estaba parado en la calle enfrente del Armory."

TRADE ASSOCIATION ETHICS

HERBERT HOOVER says that with trade associations used as the machinery for the cultivation and spread of high standards and the elimination of abuses, he is convinced that we shall have entered the great era of self-governing industry and business which has been the dream of many thinkers.

A self-governing industry can be made to render needless a vast area of governmental interference and regulation which has grown up out of righteous complaint against the abuses during the birth pains of an industrial world.

IN Chicago society trading of wives at a New Year's dinner party makes no great uproar and the principals pursue the even tenor of their ways by securing the necessary divorces and re-marrying. Out in Bloomfield, Missouri, two young farmers traded wives and both couples are now serving five months in jail. The latter couples had announced their intention of obtaining divorce and re-marrying in accordance with their present affections.

THE senate is not the only great legislative body to be "called down" by a speaker or to harbor parliamentary law ructions. In commons in England, David Kirkwood, labor member, made himself so objectionable by continually interrupting Austen Chamberlain, that the house ousted him.

P. B. ANDERSON, one of our substantial farmers, for almost a quarter of a century a resident of Crow Wing township, has removed to Brainerd and now lives on the south side, too late, however, says P. B., to run for mayor this spring.

THE editor of the Little Falls Daily Transcript has undoubtedly just made out his income tax statement, verified by the fact that he ran three consecutive editorials in his paper on income taxes.

NEWS dispatches the other day carried the item that some high personage had forgotten to pay $10,000,000 back taxes. Nobody in Brainerd would ever think of being guilty of such an imputation.

NEWSPAPERS and the radio have rendered obsolete the government printing of daily weather forecast cards. Budget experts urged their discontinuance.

WHEN four senators made a run on an "independence" ticket, we fail to see how they can still retain their allegiance to a regular party organization.

It seems very appropriate to start an air service from Chicago, often referred to as the "Windy City."

SOME people's idea of a square deal is for them to do the dealing.

ST. PAUL was 71 years old on March 4th. My! how time flies.

VICE PRESIDENT DAWES handed the senate a pipe-full.

FOREST WEEK PROCLAIMED BY PRESIDENT

PERIOD OF OBSERVANCE TO BE
MAY 3

PRESERVATION OF AMERICAN FORESTS A NECESSARY POLICY

(By United Press)

Washington, March 11.—President Coolidge today proclaimed the week of April 27 to May 3 to be American Forest Week and urged the country to observe the occasion by taking a renewed interest in forest rehabilitation.

Preservation of the nation's forests is a policy which President Coolidge regards as one of the most important duties his administration can uphold. In his proclamation today he termed forest protection a "sacred responsibility to unborn generations."

Mr. Coolidge does not regard the Forest Week he proclaimed as a mere gesture to be observed principally by school children singing Arbor Day songs. He feels a stimulation of the people's interest in maintaining the rapidly dwindling forests is one of the most serious needs of the time.

"We have passed the pioneer stage and are no longer excusable for continuing this unwise dissipation of a great resource," he declared in his proclamation. "To the nation it means the lack of an elemental necessity and the waste or keeping idle or only partly productive nearly one-fourth of our soil."

"Let us apply to this creative task the boundless energy and skill we have so long spent in harvesting the free gifts of nature. The forests of the future must be started today."

The proclamation follows: "In proclaiming American Forest Week, I desire to bring to the attention of all our people the danger that comes from the neglect of our forests."

The Forests Stripped

"For several years the nation has observed Forest Protection Week. It is fitting that this observance be enlarged. We have too freely spent the rich and magnificent gift that nature bestowed on us. In our eagerness to use that gift we have stripped our forests; we have permitted fires to lay waste and devour them; we have all too often destroyed the young growth and the seed from which new forests might spring. And though we already feel the first grip of timber shortage, we have barely begun to save and restore."

"We have passed the pioneer stage and are no longer excusable for continuing this unwise dissipation of a great resource. To the nation it means the lack of an elemental necessity and the waste or keeping idle or only partly productive nearly one-fourth of our soil. To our forest-using industries it means unstable investments, the depletion of forest capital, the disbanding of established enterprises, and the decline of one of our most important industrial groups."

"Our forests ought to be put to work and kept at work. I do not minimize the obstacles that have to be met, nor the difficulty of changing old ideas and practices. We must all put our hands to this common task. It is not enough that the Federal State and local governments take the lead. There must be a change in our national attitude. Our industries, our landowners, our farmers, all our citizens must learn to treat our forests as crops to be used but also to be renewed. We must learn to tend our woodlands as carefully as we tend our farms."

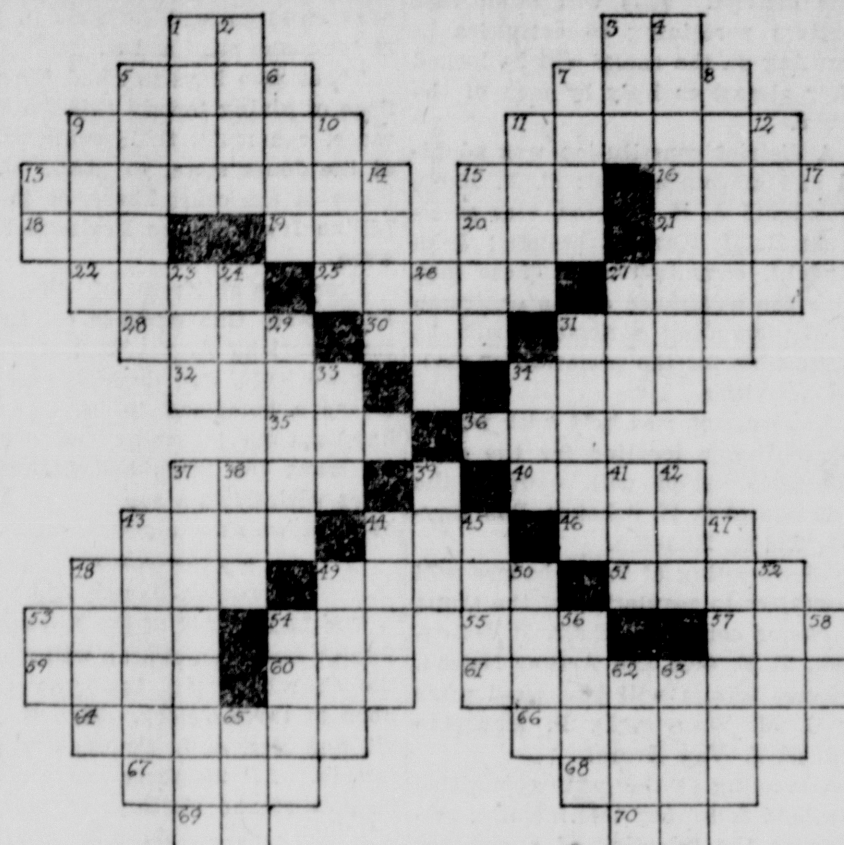

"Let us apply to this creative task the boundless energy and skill we have so long spent in harvesting the free gifts of nature. The forests of the future must be started today. Our children are dependent on our course. We are bound by a solemn obligation from which no evasion and no subterfuge will relieve us. Unless we fulfill our sacred responsibility to unborn generations, unless we use with gratitude and with restraint the generous and kindly gifts of Divine Providence, we shall prove ourselves unworthy guardians of a heritage we hold in trust."

"Now, therefore, I, Calvin Coolidge, president of the United States, do recommend to the governors of the various states to designate and set apart the week of April 27-May 3 inclusive, 1925, as American Forest Week, and wherever practicable and not in conflict with state law or accepted customs, to celebrate Arbor Day within that week. And I urge public officials, public and business associations, industrial leaders, forest owners, editors, educators, and all

HALF-DEAD AMENDMENTS TO BE KILLED

ASHURST HAS PLAN TO LIMIT
LIFE OF PROPOSED CHANGES

SOME AMENDMENTS, PROPOSED
100 YEARS AGO, STILL FLOAT AROUND

(By United Press)
Washington, March 11.—The American nation may wake up some morning and find some rather important changes made in its form of government overnight, without having suspected it in the least.

Senator Henry Fountain Ashurst, democrat of Arizona, warns of this danger in several constitutional amendments placed by Congress before the States over 100 years ago, which still lie dormant, but may be brought to life any time.

Congress has never set a time limit in which proposed constitutional amendments must be ratified or considered dead, and only a Supreme Court decision which holds that amendments be acted on in six years bears on the point in any way at all.

Ashurst contends that the Court decision may be reversed at any time, and to end forever the uncertainty about the matter he seeks legislation, in the form of a constitutional amendment, arbitrarily fixing seven years as the outside limit. Under present conditions, it is conceivable that the present Child Labor Amendment may still be pending before the States, in incomplete form, 100 years from now.

"If one or more of the constitutional amendments which have been pending since the early days of American history were approved by a few more States, the most startling complexities would arise," says Ashurst.

"What would happen," he says, "if a campaign were started to ratify the amendment submitted in 1810, making any citizen who received a gift from a foreign power ineligible to hold public office? Think of all the war veterans who were honored by medals of foreign governments during the war who would be cast out of office. No veteran who received foreign decoration could serve his country."

Another amendment fraught with possibilities for national confusion if it were dragged out and ratified is one prohibiting the United States government from interfering with slavery or compulsory labor. This amendment, like the one cited above and others, was ratified by several States, when it was submitted at the beginning of the Civil War, but failed of the necessary three-fourths. A strange thing about constitutional amendments is that they can be ratified, but never killed. They live a half-life forever, unless ratification by the States translates them into law.

Two other amendments worthy of mention are still pending, one governing representation in Congress and the other with compensation of members. Neither is vital, though one would alter the basis of representation and the other might induce a different type of statesman to seek office.

Ashurst does not believe there is any serious possibility of any of these amendments being resurrected and ratified. He points out, however, that troublemaking elements of the country might gain control of enough States to ratify them and cause confusion in the national government. His chief point in citing them is to make clear that the present method of timeless ratification of amendments is unbusinesslike and should be altered.

"We should not send down to posterity a conglomerate mass of amendments floating around in a nebulous haze, which may be resurrected and ratified in the dim and distant future," he says. "We ought to have a steady and contemporaneous action with reference to proposed amendments. Judgment of a case should be rendered within the life of those interested in changing the fundamental law of the country."

London, March 11.—Revelations that Lieut.-Col. Ian Dennistoun may be married to both the Dowager Countess of Carnarvon and Madame Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun were made today in the trial of the $6,000 suit of Mrs. Dennistoun against her former husband.

The disclosure came when Col. Dennistoun himself was admitted by his counsel to have established by collusion a domicile in Paris to obtain a divorce from his first wife. The judge pointed to the gravity of this admission saying it raised a question whether the colonel was the lawful husband of the Dowager Countess whom he married shortly after her divorce.

GREATEST U. S. ARMADA TESTS COAST DEFENSE

"BLUE" AND "BLACK" FORCES TO BATTLE TO CONTROL HAWAII

KEY TO DEFENSE OF PACIFIC COAST TO BE SHAM BATTLE AREA

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, March 11.—When the Pacific battle fleet noses its way out of the Golden Gate on April 15 and heads for the Hawaiian manoeuvres, it will represent the most powerful American armada ever sent into action. When it returns from the war games, the army and navy chiefs believe they will know whether Hawaii, the key to the Pacific, can hold off an enemy from the Far East, or whether California, Oregon and Washington are open to foreign invasion.

Japan could take Hawaii in three days with her fleet and aircraft, according to the testimony of Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of Air Service, before the House investigating committee. He charged lack of cooperation between navy and army units at Hawaii, insufficient airplanes and anti-aircraft guns, and that our defenses in the Pacific are practically nil.

Every military and naval authority in Washington concedes that an enemy by capturing Hawaii would dominate the Pacific and the western coast of the United States, but most of them believe that the manoeuvres will disprove Mitchell's charge of unpreparedness.

A Six-Week Test

Six weeks will be devoted to the test of attack and defense before the fleet at Hawaii divides on June 7, part to return to San Francisco and part to continue on the Australian cruise.

After leaving the Golden Gate the commander of the fleet, designated the "Blue" forces, will receive a wireless order to attack the Hawaiian Islands, designated the "Black" forces. At the same time the army and navy forces on the islands will receive radio warning of impending attack.

Under the joint umpires, the chief of staff and commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, the test will be carried out under conditions approximating war as closely as possible. When ships are assumed to be put out of action by coast defenses, their commanders will be notified, they will hoist a special "sunk" flag, and proceed to an "out-of-action" area. Coast defenses will likewise be silenced when they are outnumbered or their defenders outnumbered and judged overcome.

For the purpose of the test it is assumed that the islands do not belong to the United States.

The 12 most powerful dreadnaughts of the fleet will participate, with an aggregate displacement of 376,200 tons, in the three full battle divisions, consisting of cruisers, destroyers, submarines, aircraft and auxiliary craft, sufficient to repair and keep the grand fleet afloat.

The attack will be centered on Oahu, the principal island and the seat of Honolulu and the naval base. Practically all calibres of guns and mortars comprise the coast defenses of Aahu, including 12-inch railway mortars, 155-mm. guns, 3-inch anti-aircraft guns and 240-mm. howitzers.

Before the island can be attacked, the attacking fleet must have gained at least temporary supremacy over the defending naval forces. Then the enemy must get through the aircraft defenses, and finally land marines to take the garrisons from the rear.

To Silence the Guns

"In order to reduce Oahu," according to a high military authority here, "the heavy gun defense would have to be silenced and this would be an exceedingly difficult undertaking for a fleet. It is therefore very probable that a landing would have to be made. The transports would be exposed to air attack and long range gun fire, the landing force would meet strong opposition in getting ashore, and, even if it succeeded in landing would have to overcome the entire garrison."

"After landing," this authority continues, "advance would be very difficult over about two-thirds of the coast line by reason of the very rough, almost impenetrable mountain chains close to both the eastern and western shore line."

Added to these natural defenses there are 15,000 troops permanently stationed on the island. But "the alien population is of no value whatever to the defense, except as labor and that in fact much of this alien population is positively detrimental." Of the total population of 255,912, only 23,723 are Hawaiians, while 109,274 are Japanese and 23,507 Chinese.

Although everyone agrees that the "Blue" forces will find it almost impossible to capture Hawaii—and that an actual enemy would have more difficulties—it is pointed out that the islands are a prize well worth such a desperate attempt.

Great Coaling Base

"Shut out from the Sandwich Islands (Hawaii) is a coaling base, an enemy is thrown back for supplies of fuel to distances of 3,500 or 4,000 miles—or between 7,000 and 8,000 miles going and coming, an impediment to sustained maritime operations well nigh prohibitive," wrote Admiral Alfred T. Mahan, the great naval strategist.

Since the abandonment of defensive measures for the Philippines and Guam by the Washington Arms conference, Hawaii has become the sole point of support in the Pacific for operations involving the more distant islands, as well as for defense of the United States coast and the Panama Canal. The possession of the Hawaiian Islands by the United States denies to an enemy the use of Hawaii as a base in operating against the American coast and thus forces him to advance from a distance which, even under modern conditions, would be hazardous, if not prohibitive.

Apart from the importance of Hawaii, the "Third Grand Joint Exercises"—as the manoeuvres are officially called—are aimed to develop better co-ordination and cooperation between the Army and Navy and their air service. The official purpose of the manoeuvres is given as follows:

1. To train Army and Navy forces in joint operations, history teaching that most joint Army and Navy operations failed because of lack of cooperation, this lack of teamwork being the result of lack of training.
2. To test the defensive arrangements of a locality.
3. To try out methods of attack against a defended locality.

Stereoscopic Pictures Brought to Screen by Well Known Inventor

Frederic E. Ives, one of America's foremost inventors, renowned as the inventor of the half-tone process now universally used wherever illustrations in either black and white or color are printed, has given to the amusement world an invention which promises to revolutionize the motion picture industry as his photo-engraving process revolutionized the printing art. The invention is employed in the photographing of motion pictures in such a manner that they are entirely stereoscopic, giving the long sought effect of depth to the motion picture as the old fashioned stereoscopic which graced our grandmothers' tables in the latter part of the nineteenth century, did to pictures of still life. His first picture, "Plastigrams," will be shown at the Lyceum theatre tonight for the last time. Don't miss this screen novelty. Special glasses are furnished each patron to view it.

Final Showings Today

The final showings of the Cecil B. DeMille Paramount production "Feet of Clay," which opened at the New Park theatre Tuesday will take place there this afternoon and evening. Rod LaRocque, Vera Reynolds, Victor Varconi, Ricardo Cortez, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and Robert Edeson are featured in the cast. The story was adapted to the screen by Beulah Marie Dix and Bertram Millhauser from Margaretta Tuttle's magazine serial.

WHITTIER P. T. A.

JAMBOREE GOT $190

Wonderful Co-operation by All of the Many Workers Engaged in Entertainment

PROGRAM WELL PREPARED

People Had an Enjoyable Evening's Pleasure, Spending Real Community Evening

The Whittier Parent-Teachers' association held its regular March meeting on Tuesday evening at which time reports were submitted on the financial outcome of the school entertainment of last Saturday night.

These reports showed that the association cleared a little more than $190. More than this amount was taken in, but since the committee desired to confine requests for donations to residents of their ward, there were more expenditures than would have occurred if all merchants of the city had been solicited.

Wonderful co-operation was shown by all of the many workers who helped toward the success of the evening. The program was well prepared, cleverly costumed and well given.

People got more than their money's worth in every line and spent a real community evening.

During the association business meeting, the milk question was brought up, but the teachers reported that there were practically no cases in the building of undernourished, underweight children.

The educational committee recommended the film "Peter Pan," which will be shown in the city soon. Some teachers saw this picture during the holidays and spoke highly of its subject matter and production.

Arbor Day was discussed and a committee was appointed to arrange a program. This committee is composed of Mrs. R. T. Campbell, W. W. Bane and Miss Louise Barrett.

C. M. Roberts, of the state forestry department, gave a very fine illustrated lecture on trees. The main theme of the talk was fire prevention.

The forestry department is asking people to be very careful in throwing away cigarette and cigar stubs, to put out camp fires with water and not sand and to get permits for the burning of brush, slashings, etc.

The pictures showed beautiful woods taking several centuries to grow, territory cut and burned and desolate, state nurseries for the starting of young trees, especially pines, desirable wild animals whose numbers are depleted by forest fires, and the work of the forest rangers was given in detail.

Mr. Roberts explained how trees preserve moisture and keep up water levels, how they enhance the value of lakeshore property, how only slight burning retards and dwarfs them, how peeling the birches kills them, how beavers help a country more than they harm it, and many other interesting facts. These pictures have also been shown before the local Lions club and the Boy Scouts and it is hoped that others will have an opportunity to view them while they are available.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes followed Mr. Roberts with an illustrated lecture on "Friends of the Forest—Birds." She explained their value, how they eat harmful bugs, worms, caterpillars, grasshoppers and lice. Stomachs of various birds have been examined and the following information given out by the United States department of agriculture:

A cedar wax wing had eaten 100 canker worms; a chickadee had consumed 450 plant lice; a nighthawk, 500 mosquitoes; a flicker, 7,000 chinch bugs; a scarlet tanager, 630 gypsy moth caterpillars in 18 minutes, amounting to 2,100 per hour; a Maryland yellow throat had eaten 3,500 plant lice in 40 minutes.

Insects cause a loss to agriculture stated the agricultural department's report, of $795,000,000 annually, and a loss to timber and forestry of $100,000,000 each year, so that birds are indeed rightly called "Friends of the Forest."

Dr. K. H. Hoorn entertained highly with his reading, "A dream of Fair Brainerd."

At the April meeting of the association officers will be elected for the coming year.

Lively's stock of Ford parts is complete in every detail. Open day and night.

County Agent E. G. Roth has just received the gold medal awarded to Miss Kathryn O'Leary of Pequot, now Mrs. David Goodnature of Brainerd, in the bread baking contest at the Minnesota state fair last season.

Miss O'Leary won third prize in this contest three years ago and in the next two years she was awarded second prize, losing first place last year by only two-thirds of a point, the honor going to a young lady from Kittson county.

To be eligible for these contests at the state fair, one must belong to a bread baking club in her own county, and take first prize in the county contest. She is then given a trip to the state fair with expenses paid and there competes with other contestants from all over the state.

SANATORIUM TREATMENT OF TUBERCULOSIS

BY DR. JAMES K. ANDERSON (Deerwood Sanatorium)

It is now generally recognized that the sanatorium is the best place and the best way to treat tuberculosis. It serves two distinct purposes, first it serves to segregate the cases that are open and throwing off germs and so prevents the spread of infection; and secondly, it cares for and teaches the cases present.

About all that can be done in the treatment of tuberculosis is to help nature with her wonderful work of repair. We do this by rest, fresh air, good food, keeping the patient mentally at rest and medical supervision.

The routine of the sanatorium is of very great value, regular times for rest, recreation, visitors. It is very hard to follow such a routine in the

THERE IS LUXURIOUSNESS IN OUR SILK FOR THIS SPRING SEASON

Someone says, it is not so much the silk as the beauty of the styles into which they are made that makes the silks so attractive. There may be some truth in this but surely the soft rich silks and the attractive spring colorings has caused women to practically discard all other materials for silks. We hope for the pleasure of acquainting you with our silks.

The Printed Silks

We have never seen prettier patterns or richer colorings than are combined in the printed silks for this spring. And there are designs and colors for every age. Nor are they expensive. $2.65 to $5.00 secures beautiful silks and $1.50 secures silk and cotton crepes.

Soft Plain Silks

All plain silks must have a decided richness to have the approval of Dame Fashion. This richness of finish combined with the beautiful shades has given women silks which are so unusually attractive. Priced from $2.25 to $5.00 the yard.

Undergarment Pongees

These silks for undergarments have a richness in dainty shades which makes one long to possess them. And then, no silk equals them in wear. Many women consider undergarments of silk the most economical of all materials. $1.25 the yard.

Sonorieta Satin

A new fabric which is entirely different from other silk dress materials. It is a weave giving it a most luxurious appearance. It takes a very rich coloring. We are showing it in red and black at $5.00 the yard. Ask to see it.

Let Us Remind You of Our Unusual Garments

No, no; ours are not just garments, but the most carefully selected garments from many manufacturers. We are particularly proud of our selections for this season. We know that you'll find "that something" that makes a garment different in our coats and dresses. And, too, they are most reasonably priced.

home. Well-meaning friends who at times are the worst enemies of the sick person, come to visit at irregular hours and stay for prolonged visits, realizing that they are doing the patient much actual harm by asking him to talk, answer questions and laugh at their jokes. Mental fatigue is just as bad for the tuberculous patient as too much walking or riding or any other physical exercise. The patient must have mental and physical rest in order to do all that he can to get well and the biggest part of the battle is with the patient.

The matter of diet is also of importance, and in the home he is inclined to eat what he most likes and this may be the very thing that he should not eat. All meals at the sanatorium are supervised.

There are other features in favor of the sanatorium as constant nursing and medical attention, which are very hard to obtain in the home, except at great expense. Tuberculosis is a disease of long standing and so means that lots of money had to be invested if all the benefits of the sanatorium are brought into the home. Any person with tuberculosis that is giving the patient symptoms is saddled with a serious undertaking and in reality enters on a battle for his life, so all that can be done should be done and everything made just as easy for the person as possible. The sanatorium is the place to get well or take a course of instruction as to the best means to use.

Wonderful Co-operation by All of the Many Workers Engaged in Entertainment

PROGRAM WELL PREPARED

People Had an Enjoyable Evening's Pleasure, Spending Real Community Evening

The Whittier Parent-Teachers' association held its regular March meeting on Tuesday evening at which time reports were submitted on the financial outcome of the school entertainment of last Saturday night.

These reports showed that the association cleared a little more than $190. More than this amount was taken in, but since the committee desired to confine requests for donations to residents of their ward, there were more expenditures than would have occurred if all merchants of the city had been solicited.

Wonderful co-operation was shown by all of the many workers who helped toward the success of the evening. The program was well prepared, cleverly costumed and well given.

People got more than their money's worth in every line and spent a real community evening.

During the association business meeting, the milk question was brought up, but the teachers reported that there were practically no cases in the building of undernourished, underweight children.

The educational committee recommended the film "Peter Pan," which will be shown in the city soon. Some teachers saw this picture during the holidays and spoke highly of its subject matter and production.

Arbor Day was discussed and a committee was appointed to arrange a program. This committee is composed of Mrs. R. T. Campbell, W. W. Bane and Miss Louise Barrett.

C. M. Roberts, of the state forestry department, gave a very fine illustrated lecture on trees. The main theme of the talk was fire prevention.

The forestry department is asking people to be very careful in throwing away cigarette and cigar stubs, to put out camp fires with water and not sand and to get permits for the burning of brush, slashings, etc.

The pictures showed beautiful woods taking several centuries to grow, territory cut and burned and desolate, state nurseries for the starting of young trees, especially pines, desirable wild animals whose numbers are depleted by forest fires, and the work of the forest rangers was given in detail.

Mr. Roberts explained how trees preserve moisture and keep up water levels, how they enhance the value of lakeshore property, how only slight burning retards and dwarfs them, how peeling the birches kills them, how beavers help a country more than they harm it, and many other interesting facts. These pictures have also been shown before the local Lions club and the Boy Scouts and it is hoped that others will have an opportunity to view them while they are available.

Mrs. J. A. Thabes followed Mr. Roberts with an illustrated lecture on "Friends of the Forest—Birds." She explained their value, how they eat harmful bugs, worms, caterpillars, grasshoppers and lice. Stomachs of various birds have been examined and the following information given out by the United States department of agriculture:

A cedar wax wing had eaten 100 canker worms; a chickadee had consumed 450 plant lice; a nighthawk, 500 mosquitoes; a flicker, 1,000 chinch bugs; a scarlet tanager, 650 gypsy moth caterpillars in 13 minutes, amounting to 2,100 per hour; a Maryland yellow throat had eaten 3,500 plant lice in 40 minutes.

Insects cause a loss to agriculture stated the agricultural department's report, of $795,000,000 annually, and a loss to timber and forestry of $100,000,000 each year, so that birds are indeed rightly called "Friends of the Forest."

Dr. K. H. Hoon entertained highly with his reading, "A dream of Fair Brainerd."

At the April meeting of the association officers will be elected for the coming year.

Lively's stock of Ford parts is complete in every detail. Open day and night.

County Agent E. G. Roth has just received the gold medal awarded to Miss Kathryn O'Leary of Pequot, now Mrs. David Goodnature of Brainerd, in the bread baking contest at the Minnesota state fair last season.

Miss O'Leary won third prize in this contest three years ago and in the next two years she was awarded second prize, losing first place last year by only two-thirds of a point, the honor going to a young lady from Kittson county.

To be eligible for these contests at the state fair, one must belong to a bread baking club in her own county, and take first prize in the county contest. She is then given a trip to the state fair with expenses paid and there competes with other contestants from all over the state.

THEY ALL FALL IF HIT RIGHT—FARRELL BABE RUTH

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 11.—Many times you hear it said of a boxer: "He's not game. He can't take it." Lack of gameness and the inability to take punishment are frequently associated and generally confused. There are many of the stoutest hearts that beat under chins that can't take a punch.

When Sammy Mandell, the champion lightweight, was training for his recent bout with Sid Terris, a tout of the type that can be seen whispering words of heavy advice around any gymnasium and approached him and gave him this information:

"He can't take it. He'll step back. He's not game."

Mandell didn't pay attention to the tip from the volunteer informer. "I never believe that about anyone. Nobody can take it when they come over hard enough," he said, when discussing it later.

There is the well-known case of Farmer Lodge, a heavyweight who looked big enough to whip a pair of ordinary fighters, but he was rated as one of the leading divers in the ring. A diver, in the parlance of the ring, is a fighter who lacks the courage to take punishment and who looks for soft spots on the floor to take a fall for the count. This same Farmer Lodge was one of the heroes of the A. E. F. He distinguished himself by capturing a German machine gun nest lone-handed with a broken rifle and an empty cartridge-belt. That sure was courage.

Tommy O'Brien, a sad faced young doughboy from Milwaukee, is another one who was placed in the class of the faint-hearted lightweights. "He can punch," the touts said, "but he can't stand the going." This same Tommy O'Brien had his leg almost blown off in the Argonne forest with the United States Infantry. His leg is a mass of ugly scars that run here and there, up and down all over the limb. He was almost torn apart by a burst of shrapnel and they despaired of his life at the emergency hospital. Certainly, they said, if he recovers he never will be able to walk. And now that boy is fighting.

SEEK PROBE OF GAME REFUGE ACT

WISCONSIN OFFICIAL RAISES THE QUESTION OF STATE'S RIGHTS

St. Paul, March 11.—J. F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, has been asked to investigate further the federal refuge act.

A bill is now pending in congress providing for the creation of the upper Mississippi wild life and fish refuge. The state senate has passed a bill urging congress to enact the law, but the measure still is pending in the house.

The attention of Mr. Gould has been called to the proposed act by E. S. Hall, Wisconsin game commissioner, who suggests there is a possibility that state's rights may be interfered with if the federal act passes.

Mr. Gould, who has indorsed the state bill, believes that it does not infringe on state's rights, but submitted the matter to the legislative committee on game and fish to make a further study of it.

The federal act would permit the government to take part of the state refuges in Minnesota and other states for a government refuge in which hunting would be prohibited.

Record Flawless Crystal

The largest flawless crystal sphere in the world was brought to New York from China, where it was cut from a perfect Burma crystal. It was nine inches in diameter and weighed 500 Troy ounces and 13 pennyweights. It has a little brother or sister, fifteen-sixteenths of an inch smaller in diameter. The two are valued at $50,000.

Causes of Fogs

Fogs occur most frequently in autumn and spring, because at these seasons the temperature is most variable. The fogs which form or descend on the earth's surface are actually clouds, and when changes of temperature occur the vapors are apt to become suddenly condensed.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv't.

RITOLA SETS NEW RECORDS IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, March 11.—While Paavo Nurmi exhibited his wonderful running ability and failed by eight seconds to break the 1 3-4 miles record, his fellow countryman and only rival in the distance events, Willie Ritola, featured the indoor meet here. Ritola shattered two world's records. He covered the 4,000-yard race in 10 minutes 4-5 seconds and the 2 1/2 mile event in 11 minutes 40 1-5 seconds. Nurmi covered his 1 3-4 miles in the excellent time of 8 minutes 3 1-5 seconds and was far out in front of Shimek, Marquette and Egil Krogh, Illinois Athletic club, who were running against him.

Five other world records fell by the wayside in the meet. They were: Helen Filkey, Chicago, broke the world's record for girls, covering the 50-yard dash in 6 1-5 seconds and the 50-yard low hurdles in 7 1-5 seconds.

H. Wallace, Chicago A. O., set a new mark of 5 3-5 seconds for the low hurdles.

The girls' relay team of the Midwest A. C., Chicago, set a new record in the fourth lap, girls' relay, covering the distance in 1:37.

Harold Osborne, Olympic decathlon and high jump champion, set a new world's record of 32 feet 2 inches in the standing hop, step and jump.

Ivan Reilly of the Illinois Athletic club equalled the world's record in the 45-yard high hurdles.

All fads go by cycles except this crossword puzzle craze, and it goes by cyclopedias.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is effervescent; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv't.

FAIR, FAT AND OVER FORTY

YOUTH COLLECTING ITS TOLL, HIS BEST DAYS ARE BE- HIND HIM

HAS BUT LITTLE LEFT OF HIS EARNINGS IN THE BIG LEAGUE

(By United Press)

New York, March 11.—Babe Ruth, one of the most picturesque players in baseball history has little left of his great earnings in the big league, according to a dispatch to the New York Evening World from a staff correspondent now at St. Petersburg, Florida.

"A country home in the shadow of the famous inn at Sudberg, Mass., where he might find rest in his later years," says the dispatch, "is all that Ruth really possesses today with the exception of his wife's holdings."

Ruth has passed the shadow line of his life. He is growing fat and old. Youth is collecting its toll—his best days are behind him.

The World's correspondent quotes Ruth as admitting he owed Harry Lichtenstein, a New York bookmaker $7,700 for which the latter has now sued the swat king, but Ruth feels again the gambler broke a gentleman's agreement to wait until he could pay him and turns Ruth up as a welcher.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Scene of Last Battle in the Revolution

In the summer of 1759 a Virginia hunter came to a high bluff overlooking the Ohio river, and, impressed by the beauty of the spot, he took "tomahawk possession," built a rude shack and remained there for several months. Ebenezer Zane was his name and the next year he returned to stay.

When Lord Dunmore, the governor of Virginia, decided in 1774 to make war on the western Indians who had been attacking the border settlements, he ordered several companies of militia to rendezvous at the Zane settlement and build a fort as the base for his military operations. Accordingly a typical frontier stockade was erected here by Maj. Angus McDonald, with Ebenezer Zane and John Caldwell supervising the construction, and it was named Fort Fincaiste, in honor of Dunmore, one of whose titles was Viscount Fincaiste.

When Dunmore's campaign ended successfully he left a garrison of 25 men at Fort Fincaiste, who held the post until June, 1775, when the Revolution broke out and the frontiersmen took possession of it for the Continental congress. In 1777 the fort was enlarged and renamed Fort Henry, in honor of Patrick Henry.

From that time on Fort Henry saw some stirring events. On August 31, 1777, it was attacked by 350 Shawnee, Mingo and Wyandot warriors, and during this attack Betty Zane made her famous dash across the bullet-swept clearing to carry back in her apron the powder so desperately needed by the defenders of the fort.

Again on September 10, 1782, the Indians, aided by a force of British rangers from Detroit, swept down upon the post, but again the frontiersmen beat off the attack. This was virtually the last battle of the Revolution and the war, which was opened by a shot from a little four-pounder on the walls of Fort William and Mary in New Hampshire, ended with the sharp crack of a long rifle at Fort Henry in West Virginia.

After the Revolution the sight of Fort Henry was a welcome one to thousands of emigrants who floated down the Ohio in their quest for homes in the West, for it was the symbol of the conquering pioneer, the outpost of white civilization which had successfully withstood all the savage assaults. When the frontier days were over the settlement around Fort Henry continued to grow and today it is the important city of Wheeling, W. Va.

Toothless Cow

A drover bought a young cow in Stratford, N. H., for a very small price from a man who didn't know as much about a cow's anatomy as he now does. The drover claimed the animal was pretty ancient and declared that her upper jaw proved it, as she had lost all her teeth. The owner, not knowing that cattle never possess upper teeth, reluctantly agreed and sold for a song.

Glad Sister Escaped Operation

"Physicians had given my sister up to die; they wanted to operate for gall stones, but she was too weak and could only talk in whispers. I got her a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and in three weeks she was able to get about and walked a mile to church." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. ## THEY ALL FALL IF HIT RIGHT—FARRELL BADE RUTH

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, March 11.—Many times you hear it said of a boxer—"He's not game. He can't take it." Lack of gameness and the inability to take punishment are frequently associated and generally confused. There are many of the stoutest hearts that beat under chins that can't take a punch.

When Sammy Mandell, the champion lightweight, was training for his recent bout with Sid Terris, a tout of the type that can be seen whispering words of heavy advice around any gymnasium and approached him and gave him this information:

"He can't take it. He'll step back. He's not game."

Mandell didn't pay attention to the tip from the volunteer informer. "I never believe that about anyone. Nobody can take it when they come over hard enough," he said, when discussing it later.

There is the well-known case of Farmer Lodge, a heavyweight who looked big enough to whip a pair of ordinary fighters, but he was rated as one of the leading divers in the ring. A diver, in the parlance of the ring, is a fighter who lacks the courage to take punishment and who looks for soft spots on the floor to take a fall for the count. This same Farmer Lodge was one of the heroes of the A. E. F. He distinguished himself by capturing a German machine gun nest lone-handed with a broken rifle and an empty cartridge-belt. That sure was courage.

Tommy O'Brien, a sad faced young doughboy from Milwaukee, is another one who was placed in the class of the faint-hearted lightweights. "He can punch," the touts said, "but he can't stand the going." This same Tommy O'Brien had his leg almost blown off in the Argonne forest with the United States Infantry. His leg is a mass of ugly scars that run here and there, up and down all over the limb. He was almost torn apart by a burst of shrapnel and they despaired of his life at the emergency hospital. Certainly, they said, if he recovers he never will be able to walk. And now that boy is fighting.

SEEK PROBE OF GAME REFUGE ACT

WISCONSIN OFFICIAL RAISES THE QUESTION OF STATE'S RIGHTS

St. Paul, March 11.—J. F. Gould, state game and fish commissioner, has been asked to investigate further the federal refuge act.

A bill is now pending in congress providing for the creation of the upper Mississippi wild life and fish refuge. The state senate has passed a bill urging congress to enact the law, but the measure still is pending in the house.

The attention of Mr. Gould has been called to the proposed act by E. S. Hall, Wisconsin game commissioner, who suggests there is a possibility that state's rights may be interfered with if the federal act passes.

Mr. Gould, who has indorsed the state bill, believes that it does not infringe on state's rights, but submitted the matter to the legislative committee on game and fish to make a further study of it.

The federal act would permit the government to take part of the state refuges in Minnesota and other states for a government refuge in which hunting would be prohibited.

Record Flawless Crystal

The largest flawless crystal sphere in the world was brought to New York from China, where it was cut from a perfect Burma crystal. It was nine inches in diameter and weighed 500 Troy ounces and 13 pennyweights. It has a little brother or sister, fifteen-sixteenths of an inch smaller in diameter. The two are valued at $50,000.

Causes of Fogs

Fogs occur most frequently in autumn and spring, because at these seasons the temperature is most variable. The fogs which form or descend on the earth's surface are actually clouds, and when changes of temperature occur the vapors are apt to become suddenly condensed.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.—Adv't.

RITOLA SETS NEW RECORDS IN MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee, March 11.—While Paavo Nurmi exhibited his wonderful running ability and failed by eight seconds to break the 1 3-4 miles record, his fellow countryman and only rival in the distance events, Willie Ritola, featured the indoor meet here. Ritola shattered two world's records. He covered the 4,000-yard race in 10 minutes 4-5 seconds and the 2 1/2 mile event in 11 minutes 40 1-5 seconds. Nurmi covered his 1 3-4 miles in the excellent time of 8 minutes 3 1-5 seconds and was far out in front of Shimek, Marquette and Egil Krogh, Illinois Athletic club, who were running against him.

Five other world records fell by the wayside in the meet. They were: Helen Filkey, Chicago, broke the world's record for girls, covering the 50-yard dash in 6 1-5 seconds and the 50-yard low hurdles in 7 1-5 seconds.

H. Wallace, Chicago A. O., set a new mark of 5 3-5 seconds for the low hurdles.

The girls' relay team of the Midwest A. C., Chicago, set a new record in the fourth lap, girls' relay, covering the distance in 1:37.

Harold Osborne, Olympic decathlete and high jump champion, set a new world's record of 32 feet 2 inches in the standing hop, step and jump.

Ivan Reilly of the Illinois Athletic club equalled the world's record in the 45-yard high hurdles.

All fads go by cycles except this cross-word puzzle craze, and it goes by cyclopedias.

QUART OF WATER CLEANS KIDNEYS

Take a Little Salts if Your Back Hurts, or Bladder is Troubling You

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Eating too much rich food creates acids, which excite the kidneys. They become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood. Then we get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys, or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin drinking a quart of water each day, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, and in a few days your kidneys may act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush and stimulate the kidneys; also to help neutralize the acids in the system, so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby often avoiding serious kidney complications. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv't.

FAIR, FAT AND OVER FORTY

YOUTH COLLECTING ITS TOLL,
HIS BEST DAYS ARE BEHIND HIM

HAS BUT LITTLE LEFT OF HIS EARNINGS IN THE BIG LEAGUE

(By United Press)

New York, March 11.—Babe Ruth, one of the most picturesque players in baseball history has little left of his great earnings in the big league, according to a dispatch to the New York Evening World from a staff correspondent now at St. Petersburg, Florida.

"A country home in the shadow of the famous inn at Sudberg, Mass., where he might find rest in his later years," says the dispatch, "is all that Ruth really possesses today with the exception of his wife's holdings."

Ruth has passed the shadow line of his life. He is growing fat and old. Youth is collecting its toll—his best days are behind him.

The World's correspondent quotes Ruth as admitting he owed Harry Lichtenstein, a New York bookmaker $7,700 for which the latter has now sued the swat king, but Ruth feels again the gambler broke a gentleman's agreement to wait until he could pay him and turns Ruth up as a welcher.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Scene of Last Battle in the Revolution

In the summer of 1789 a Virginia hunter came to a high bluff overlooking the Ohio river, and, impressed by the beauty of the spot, he took "tomahawk possession," built a rude shack and remained there for several months. Ebenezer Zane was his name and the next year he returned to stay.

When Lord Dunmore, the governor of Virginia, decided in 1774 to make war on the western Indians who had been attacking the border settlements, he ordered several companies of militia to rendezvous at the Zane settlement and build a fort as the base for his military operations. Accordingly a typical frontier stockade was erected here by Maj. Angus McDonald, with Ebenezer Zane and John Caldwell supervising the construction, and it was named Fort Fincastle, in honor of Dunmore, one of whose titles was Viscount Fincastle.

When Dunmore's campaign ended successfully he left a garrison of 25 men at Fort Fincastle, who held the post until June, 1775, when the Revolution broke out and the frontiersmen took possession of it for the Continental congress. In 1777 the fort was enlarged and renamed Fort Henry, in honor of Patrick Henry.

From that time on Fort Henry saw some stirring events. On August 31, 1777, it was attacked by 350 Shawnee, Mingo and Wyandot warriors, and during this attack Betty Zane made her famous dash across the bullet-swept clearing to carry back in her apron the powder so desperately needed by the defenders of the fort.

Again on September 10, 1782, the Indians, aided by a force of British rangers from Detroit, swept down upon the post, but again the frontiersmen beat off the attack. This was virtually the last battle of the Revolution and the war, which was opened by a shot from a little four-pounder on the walls of Fort William and Mary in New Hampshire, ended with the sharp crack of a long rifle at Fort Henry in West Virginia.

After the Revolution the sight of Fort Henry was a welcome one to thousands of emigrants who floated down the Ohio in their quest for homes in the West, for it was the symbol of the conquering pioneer, the outpost of white civilization which had successfully withstood all the savage assaults. When the frontier days were over the settlement around Fort Henry continued to grow and today it is the important city of Wheeling, W. Va.

Toothless Cow

A drover bought a young cow in Stratford, N. H., for a very small price from a man who didn't know as much about a cow's anatomy as he now does. The drover claimed the animal was pretty ancient and declared that her upper jaw proved it, as she had lost all her teeth. The owner, not knowing that cattle never possess upper teeth, reluctantly agreed and sold for a song.

Glad Sister Escaped Operation

"Physicians had given my sister up to die; they wanted to operate for gall stones, but she was too weak and could only talk in whispers. I got her a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and in three weeks she was able to get about and walked a mile to church." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
